Senior Club Hosts To Juniors

Large Attendance at Delightful Party Thursday

A most attractive scene greeted the large number of Juniors who were the guests at the Salamagundi Party given in their honor by the Seniors, Thursday evening, March 27th. The Community Club room was transformed until it glowed like Florida sunshine. Yellow crepe paper hung in festoons from walls and lights, with yellow rosebuds and small bluebirds nestling here and there.

On entrance each Junior was given a blue bird, a tag bearing number and topic of conversation. This entitled the bearer to a Senior partner of the same number.

Thus, early in the evening, the fire of formality was broken and the program arranged by the Entertainment Committee was entered upon with zest and enthusiasm.

The Juniors assumed the prerogatives of guests and ran away with the kidly car race and the dressing contest. "Time" Mueller outdistancing the field in the former and "Peg" Eckbert, by a brilliant sport, in the latter.

A Senior and Junior shared honors in the three-legged race, when Ruth Haws and Mrs. Henderson romped home easy victors.

Several other mirth provoking games were enjoyed and then all had the pleasure of easing tired limbs while listening to the clever sketch given by Mrs. Boyer and Mrs. Davis, in costume.

A short time was spent in singing and the enjoyment of the delicious refreshments served by their hostesses, and then the Juniors regretfully departed for home.

The graceful speech of welcome delivered by Mrs. Ross, President of the Senior Club, responded to by Miss Florence Hoof, President of the younger organization, aptly summed up the desires of the two organizations for closer unity of purpose and activity. Affairs like the Salamagundi party do much to promote this aim, and it is to be hoped that the good work, now begun, can be continued with increasing success.

The Juniors wish publicly to thank the Senior Club for the splendid time they enjoyed as their guests and for the many kindnesses and considerations they have already received at their hands. The Juniors hope some day to be able to prove themselves worthy of the interest shown in them by the Seniors.

Style Show

Come early and get a front seat at the next meeting of the Women's Community Club of Narberth, to be held on Tuesday, April 1st, at two P. M. instead of the regular hour, two-thirty. "Why come early?" you ask. Well, we leave it to you to guess whether or not it will be worth while.

The program will be a most interesting one. Strawbridge & Clothier have promised such a style show as will enable one to force the fashions of 1924 or thereabouts. Living models will demonstrate the gowns, which will be many and varied. Preceding this exhibition Miss Isabel Stahl will lecture on good lines and spring styles for all types.

All in all this program promises to be one of the most popular of the year.

Remember the "Karnival" last year? Remember what a grand and glorious time you had? Want to have another fine time? Yes! Then come to the Cafeteria Dinners on Wednesday and Thursday, April 9th and 10th, given by the Women's Community Club. Yes, it's the maids' night off and there won't be any dishes to wash here. The dinners will be served cafeteria style from 5.30 to 7.30 each evening with quick service and good food. There will be a real home-cooked New England dinner the first night, while the menu for Thursday evening is a secret, and a good one.

The Board of Directors lacks only a few dollars of the five thousand which is their aim this year, and those who are anxious for a new club house can "do their bit" now and attend these dinners, the price of which will be as interesting as the meals themselves.

Don't forget the dates, Wednesday and Thursday, April 9th and 10th. Bring your friends along and swell the crowd.

Main Line League Under Way

Will Start Season with Six Clubs in Circuit

Pauli Men's Club, represented by Walter L. Handley, was voted a franchise in the Main Line League at a meeting held on Monday night at the Wayne Men's Club. This action completes the circuit, providing Wayne enters a club in the league, a matter not definitely decided as yet. Besides Pauli, there were represented: Berwyn, Jesse E. Lewis; Wayne, A. A. H. Canizares; Ardmore, James F. Barrett; Narberth, President Robert L. Edgar; Bala-Cynwyd, Grover C. Thompson and George Nellins. Secretary Charles C. Shoemaker recorded the minutes until relieved later by Chief of Umpires William G. Ferguson. A large crowd of fans were present and much interest was shown in the proceedings.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was postponed until a meeting to be held on Monday, April 7. In the meantime a committee consisting of Messrs. Canizares, Barrett and Thompson was appointed to canvass the field, select candidates for the various offices and report to the April meeting.

The season will be the usual split schedule of 20 games, 10 in each half, and will open on Saturday, May 17. The first half will end with games on July 4th. There will be an open Saturday following the 4th, and the season will end on Labor Day. One game only will be played on Memorial Day and two each on July 4 and Labor Day.

It was definitely decided that each club should pay into the hands of the treasurer $125 on or before May 10. This amount is made up of four months' dues and $25 forfeit money.

Practically the same rules as last year's were adopted. One new one is that no player under contract in another league, or who is an out and out professional, will be eligible to play in the Main Line League.

There was a long and tiresome wrangle over the matter of the appointment of an arbitration committee to whom disputes between club members might be referred for decision. It was decided to postpone final action thereon until the April meeting. At that same time the matter of territorial boundaries will be decided.

This followed an enthusiastic meeting of potentates, magnates, scribes, publicans and sinners which was held in Narberth the previous Friday at the office of Robert J. Nash, President of our local club, at which preliminary steps were taken to launch the Main Line League for the season of 1924. Five towns were represented at the meeting and Pauli, though unrepresented, was considering applying for a berth in the League. Johnny Nansen, of Oakmont, may later put in an application for a franchise at that rapidly growing town if an opening is offered.

It was decided to keep the territorial boundaries for the various clubs. The so-called Bryn Mawr territory was thrown open to the entire League; Bala-Cynwyd's territory was extended to take in Gladwyne and Gulph Mills.

No player who is an out-and-out professional or who is under contract to play in another league, will be eligible to play in the Main Line League.

There will be an entirely new deal in umpires this season, it being decided to release Umps Lord, Griffith and Boone, last year's staff.

In general prospects for a successful season, both in Narberth and the League as a whole, seem bright.

DANCE

A spring dance is to be given by the Juniors of the Narberth Tennis Club on Saturday evening, April 12th.

The committee in charge, Carl Metzger and Wells Wanamaker, announce that "Mike" Fisch's Orchestra has been secured, and that dancing will be the order of the evening from 9 to 12.

Elm Hall is the scene of the affair, and tickets are available now from any Junior member of the Tennis Club.

A WELCOME GIFT

A bird lover of Narberth gave a very pleasant surprise to the Boy Scouts at their meeting last Monday evening by presenting the boys with twenty-five wren boxes constructed by himself, which he desired them to put up at their several homes. Needless to say, the recipients were very appreciative and the donor will always be a welcome guest at any Scout meeting.

Well-Known Sports Figure Passes

Terrence Connell a Popular Narberth Resident

Terrence G. Connell, a well-known and popular resident of Narberth, and a nationally known figure in the baseball world for a half a century, died suddenly last Tuesday morning from a stroke of apoplexy, at his home at 26 Woodside avenue. He had enjoyed the best of health up to the last. Mr. Connell was born in Philadelphia 68 years ago.

The funeral will be this, Saturday, morning, at 9 o'clock, from his late residence, with Solemn Requiem Mass at St. Margaret's Church, at 10 o'clock. Interment will be made at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Mr. Connell is survived by his widow, one son, Edward H. Connell, of 221 South Seventeenth street, Philadelphia, and three sisters—Miss Mary Connell, of Narberth; Mrs. A. J. Harbach, of Atlantic City, and Sister St. Stanislaus, of the Immaculate Heart Convent.

Few men have been more closely identified with the baseball history of the United States than Terrence Connell, and the following article which appeared in "The Evening Bulletin" the day of his death tells briefly of the days when he was an active participant in the national sport:

"Terry" Connell, as he was known in baseball circles for half a century, was born in this city. When a youth he learned the game on the Philadelphia and lots with Ed Williamson, the Chicago player. From 1874 to 1881 he played with the Chicago Athletics, Phillies and Harrisburg Clubs, numbering among his associates Billy Sunday, the evangelist, who was once an outfielder on the Chicago team.

From 1878 until he took up umpiring, Connell was boss of the Athletics.

It was while umpiring a game for the city championship between the Athletics and the Phillies that Connell conceived his idea of having two umpires, one to call balls and strikes and the other to watch the plays on the bases.

He sought out Harry Wright, manager of the Phillies, and pointed out the merits of the double umpiring system. Wright was struck with the feasibility of the idea and promptly put it into effect. At first Connell, umpiring jointly with Wesley Curry, changed positions each inning. Later when the system became generally the vogue in the big leagues, the umpires were detailed to either post for the duration of the game.

After umpiring in the American Association for many years he was taken over by the National League. He was known among ball players as a firm and aggressive man, of whom it was said "no player or manager ever bluffed him."

An instance of his gameness was told when the old Washington team was playing Cincinnati at the national capital. The home team had been badly beaten in several games and the manager declared his team would not play next day if Connell umpired. The President of the League wired Connell to leave Washington and go to Brooklyn, ordering the Brooklyn umpire, Jack Valentine, to go to Washington in his stead. Instead of doing so Connell wired Valentine to stay in Brooklyn, as he intended to finish the Washington series.

The next day Connell walked on the Senators' playing field expecting trouble, not only from the manager, but the fans as well. The manager made things as hot as he could by yelling to the crowd the Washington team could not win because Connell was umpiring.

But Connell stuck to his job and to his own surprise the fans instead of "roasting" him began to shout to the Senators to play better ball. Cincinnati won the game and Connell umpired to the bitter end.

A true lover of the game, Mr. Connell's enthusiasm for the sport was just as keen after his retirement from the diamond as when he was "taking 'em hot off the bat" back in the days when the catcher wore neither mask nor glove, and later when he was calling the balls and strikes. It was a rare day that he did not see either the Phillies or the Athletics play, and not infrequently last summer he would attend a double-header in Philadelphia, and then take in one of our own Narberth twilight games.

Mothers Dined By Girl Scouts

Narberth Troop Hosts at Big Luncheon Saturday

Last Saturday afternoon the Narberth Troop of Girl Scouts gave a luncheon to their mothers. The purpose of the luncheon was to be a "get-together" meeting for the mothers, the Scouts and the Councilors. There were seven members of the Main Line Council present, including Mrs. George Grant Snowden, Mrs. Charles C. Harrison, Jr., Mrs. Walter C. Janney, Mrs. Carol B. Nichols, Mrs. Duane C. Williams, Miss Anne Thompson and Miss Ellen Wain Harrison, who is President of the Main Line Leaders' Association, also Miss Julia Williamson, who is Director of Scouts, and the local leaders, Miss Ruth Ely Haws, Captain; Miss Marian F. Haws and Miss Marian S. Graham, Lieutenants. Forty mothers were present and including the Scouts there was a total attendance of one hundred and six.

The tables were arranged most artistically, and everything was planned and worked out in a pleasing way, the seven Patrol Leaders of the Troop acting as hostesses. Between courses Scout Ella Ross sang and Scout Virginia Burgstesser gave a recitation. After the luncheon Miss Haws welcomed the mothers and thanked the Council for their untiring efforts and their loyal support. Mrs. Charles C. Harrison, Jr., a member of the Main Line Council, gave a most interesting talk on the principles of Scouting and explained how tremendous the benefits of a successful Troop are to the individuals. She also congratulated Narberth on having the largest and finest Troop on the Main Line.

Mrs. Carroll Nichols, the member of the Council who is a fairy god-mother to the Narberth Troop, spoke a few words of appreciation of all the Narberth girls are doing. Miss Julia Williamson, Director of Scouts, spoke of the possibilities that await the girls who go into scouting and the benefits gained therefrom.

After the splendid addresses the Scouts went to the gymnasium and the guests to the balcony, where they watched a most inspiring demonstration of real Scout work. The Signal Squad, consisting of twelve girls, did some beautiful work, there was a demonstration of first aid, and Miss Williamson invested a new girl into the Troop, which ceremony was most impressive. There was also an exhibition of singing and drilling, at the close of which the girls marched so as to form the letters G. S.

The mothers of the Troop, as well as the Council, feel that a new light has been thrown on the field of scouting and that a great many of the wonderful features of the organization heretofore unseen were revealed in such a way that they will long be remembered by the mothers of the Narberth Girl Scouts.

A SPORT CENTER

With the recent arrival in Narberth of "Lou" Young, Penn football coach, and "Erny" Couzens, graduate manager, with their respective families, two more big figures in the sporting world have been added to Narberth.

Many players and officials of other days live in the Borough. Terrence Connell, who died this week, was a nationally known figure in baseball, and his death removes a well-liked citizen.

State Senator Fletcher W. Stites was a famous pitcher for Penn, and later for Narberth. "Pinky" Simpson's name is well-known among the admirers of good pitching.

The manager of our local ball team, Wilmer C. Crowell, was at one time one of the country's most famous drop-kickers, and today is called upon to referee the big football matches in all parts of the country. Last year his fame called him to the Pacific Coast.

Another addition to our Narberth coaches is Coach Harmon, of the Haverford College football team, who moved in during the winter. Prominent in Tennis Club matters is Albert C. Miller, a member of the famous Miller family in Penn football. He is an older brother of Heinie Miller, captain of a few years ago.

"Al" Miller was captain of the Penn team in 1909, and later acted as assistant coach, also coaching other teams after leaving Penn. The fame of "Bill" Durbin, our new Scoutmaster, has traveled far as an all-around athlete.

There are probably dozens and scores of others who have made their mark in sports, and are living in Narberth. If there are any we have omitted, information will be welcomed. Narberthites should know their neighbors better.

METHODISTS LOSE TO LUTHERANS

The Methodists lost the last series of games scheduled in the second half of the Inter-Church Bowling League Monday evening, March 24th, to the Lutherans. The high scores for the evening were: Reger, 204; Reiss, 198, and Albert, 195. Albert had the high score for three games with 558 points.

Next Monday evening, March 31st, will be the play-off game between the Methodists, winners of the first half, and the Baptists, winners of the second half. A silver loving cup will be given to the winning team and both churches will have out their best men. This game will close the season.

The score for the evening follows:

Any Choral members who have not secured tickets for the orchestra concert may do so by phoning Narberth 2252-W until the limited supply is exhausted.

With but three more rehearsals, the organization is bending every endeavor to make its new venture a success. Distinct effort has been made this year to provide a program which will appeal to all music lovers, and it is expected that the concert will reflect that aim to the satisfaction of those who have so generously contributed to the support of the work.

LET US PROVE THIS TO YOU

Plant-and more Plant

During 1922 we added twenty millions of dollars' worth of equipment to our plant in Pennsylvania. Last year the figure was thirty millions. Those were record-breaking years. This year it will be forty millions. As far as we can see now, the coming five years will require about $173,000,000.

These figures are not of our making. The people of Pennsylvania by asking us for telephones—more and more telephones—are telling us how much new plant we must add.

Although the figures are large, we're in this business to give you all the service you need when you want it and where you want it.

That's why we're spending these millions of dollars in Pennsylvania.

And all of it is for construction—none of it goes for operating expenses. None of it goes for maintaining the equipment; although, of course, both maintenance and operating expenses increase as the telephone plant grows.

These millions must be raised largely in the form of new investments in the property.

Our business is not alone to spend this money as economically as possible. We must also, by sound business management, continue to hold your confidence, for it is to you that we must come for these new investments.

Right on top of the hill! Probably the highest section in Narberth. Several long time residents of "Our Town" have recently purchased homes and building sites in this development. Surely their judgment on Narberth property is a valuable criterion on the desirability of Wynne Farm.

But, only a few more may be fortunate in securing building sites in this beautiful development. Why not consider Wynne Farm to-day. Full information on request.

OUR TOWN

SPRING AT THE LIBRARY

A New Periodical for the Reading Table

The robins and song sparrows are already here and on every pleasant morning the whistle of the cardinal awaits the ear of the commuter if he but listens as he hurries to his train. Pussy willows and alders are displaying their catkins and the hooded blossom of the skunk cabbage will reward any Sunday pedestrian who turns to ward the woods. Color is deepening in the canes and branches of the shrubbery and furtive woolly leaves are thrusting up their tips at the bases of last year's stalks on the perennials in the borders. Now is the annual opportunity to begin at the beginning with birds and flowers and gardens.

The Community Library is well equipped to meet the appetite for outdoor books. There is on the shelves an unusually complete collection of books on birds and flowers and gardening for both children and adults. There is also a group of books on vacationing subjects which will appeal to lovers of outdoor sports, while books on redeeming old houses or renovating and spring cleaning newer ones are waiting to stimulate the imagination and fire the zeal of every housewife. Those whose interests are first attracted to these subjects this year will be greatly aided and encouraged by the assistance which the Library can give them. Any one may look for the lists of books on various subjects which are found on the reading table or ask at the delivery desk for suggestions.

A valuable addition has been made to the Library periodical table during the past week by the contribution of a subscription to the "Outlook." It is hardly necessary to explain that this is a weekly publication of reliable information and of competent editorial judgment. It is a magazine of opinion rather than of narration. All copies from now on will be available at the Library, and the usefulness of back numbers will be greatly increased by the "Readers' Guide" Index which has recently been purchased.

ABOUT THE GARDEN

The "Farm Journal" for April has for its leading feature an article by Mr. A. B. Ross, of Narberth, on fertilizers, which is of special interest to the vegetable gardener.

The principals of fertilizing and the care of the soil, of course, are the same when applied to any garden, but "Farm Journal" readers are naturally interested in greater production from their acres so that the article is not intended to apply directly to our little suburban gardens, which are, generally speaking, ornamental plantings or flower gardens.

Our information on fertilizing is usually that applied more especially to the vegetable garden and ordinarily calls for quantities of animal manures spaded into the soil. While animal manures contain good percentages of the three necessary elements to be added to the soil—nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash—their greater value to the flower garden is after the chemical elements have leached out and only the rotted body of the manure is left.

Well rotted manure adds that valuable element so necessary to our heavy clayey soil in holding moisture and making the ground friable or workable, namely, humus. Soil containing a good proportion of humus will hold moisture, will not cake and shed water, and will not crack like heavy clay.

Let us start at the first requisite for a good garden and assure proper drainage, not only surface drainage, but sub-soil drainage that will allow excess water to drain off. Six inches of good soil over a bed of clay or hard pan will never grow anything but shallow-rooted annuals, and even they are apt to drown.

The next requirement is the mechanical condition of the soil, which can be adjusted in this locality by the addition of humus and sand to our heavy clay.

The third and least important factor in the flower garden is chemical fertilizers or "forcers," which must be handled with a knowledge of the elements the fertilizers contain and the results we want to secure. Nitrogen produces a leaf growth which is not what we want in the flower garden. We want root and stems and bud; flower and fruit, or seed. For the first we can use potash and hardwood ashes is the most convenient form. For flowers we want phosphoric acid, and bone gives us this element, bone flower for quick results and coarse bone for the use of the plant at a later date, about three to six months.

Soil drainage first, soil mechanical condition next and then fertilizer.

Clean-Up Week

type of clean-up work on each day of the week has been formulated by the State officials in charge of the drive. Thus Monday is proclaimed as "street and alley day," with the work of the day set forth as cleaning streets, sidewalks, gutters, ditches and sewers. Tuesday is forestry day. Dead growths, underbrush and lawns are to be cleaned that day, while it is proposed to have fences repaired, whitewashing done and tree boxes straightened.

Wednesday is fly and mosquito day. Cesspools, stables, pig pens, chicken coops, stagnant pools and garbage cans are to receive the attention of the citizen clean-up army on that day. Thursday is junk day, providing for the removal of rubbish, junk and waste. Cellars and attics are to be visited on that day.

Friday is truck day, and it is recommended that trucks be employed then to haul away the refuse of the four days' clean-up work. Saturday is "put in order" day. Everything overlooked during the preceding five days is to be finished then.

The appeal to local authorities and welfare organizations suggests that a meeting be called to outline the work of the week.

"Call a meeting and start the ball rolling," the letter reads. "Numbers of strangers motor through your town each day. They notice and remark about it; whether they remember your town, because it looked so well kept, or whether they can't forget it, because it was so unsightly, depends upon you."

The clean-up drive this year is the second held under State auspices. One of the features of the program will be the broadcasting of "clean-up" talks each night during the week from Station WDAK, near Harrisburg. The week's radio program will open on Saturday, April 12, with Rev. C. Waldo Cherry, of the Pine Street Presbyterian Church, of Harrisburg, urging his invisible audience to aid in cleaning up the State. Preachers throughout the State will also be asked to appeal to their parishioners to aid in the work by means of pulpit talks on Sunday, April 13.

Terrence G. Connell

He knew personally all the great players and managers of the last fifty years, and his wide circle of acquaintances and his intimate knowledge of the game made him an acknowledged authority on the national sport. To attend a big league game with Terrence Connell was both a pleasure and a liberal education in baseball.

Mr. Connell was probably as widely known in the theatrical world as he was in baseball circles. From the day the Garrick Theatre opened in 1901 he was chief ticket taker there, and in the twenty-three years that have passed since then, he came to know practically all the men and women prominent in the theatrical profession. When these actors and actresses were playing in Philadelphia, but at other theatres, they always made it a point in the course of their engagements to drop into the Garrick and see Connell.

Notable among these theatrical folks was George M. Cohan, who, being an ardent baseball fan, never missed an opportunity to chat with Connell about the national game. But Cohan had a deeper interest in Terrence Connell than baseball. Years ago when the now famous actor-producer was known only as the rather clever son of old Jerry Cohan and as only "one" of the "Four Cohans," Terrence Connell had been one of the young man's most enthusiastic supporters. Later when George branched out for himself and made his first appearance in Philadelphia as a star and was still doubtfully wondering whether he would ever achieve the success and fame that has since come to him, Mr. Connell was a constant source of encouragement to the young comedian. Cohan never forgot those days, and counted Terrence Connell as one of his best and truest friends.

It was, in fact, in the realm of friendships that Terrence Connell achieved his greatest success. It is literally true that his friends were legion. And this was as it should have been, for few men have had a greater capacity for making and keeping friends than Terrence Connell. Kindly and genial and always thoughtful of others, no one could have known him without being the better for his acquaintance and friendship. And to have had him both as a friend and neighbor was indeed a rare privilege and a source of constant pleasure.

Terrence Connell will be genuinely missed, but he will not be forgotten, for the memory of a True Friend and a Good Neighbor lives on forever.

CHEAPER than 30 years ago

One reason concrete is used so generally today in all types of construction from sidewalks to highways, from garages to enormous industrial plants, is the fact that Portland Cement actually costs less than it did thirty years ago.

The Atlas rotary kiln, daily producing as much as the old-time kiln did in one month, was the greatest single factor in assuring this cheapness.

And your building material dealer, the only distributing channel between Atlas and you, assures distribution economy. He knows building and building materials. He can help you.

AN IDEAL RESORT FOR AN EARLY SPRING VACATION

With the closing days of the winter season, and its round of social activities and business cares, the Seashore sends forth a call forceful and cogent in its appeal to the pleasure seeker, and suggestive of days of restful ease and comfort for the tired worker seeking an early spring health-giving vacation.

More and more each year Atlantic City is becoming accepted as an inviting seaside resort for a Lenten and Easter season of relaxation from social worries and business cares.

ATLANTIC CITY IS DELIGHTFUL IN EARLY SPRING

It is bright and joyous in the early days of spring. It is a veritable city of sunshine by the sea. There is a tonic benefit in the ozone with every breath of air wafted from the ocean and health and recuperative force in the breezes from nearby forests of pine.

The sixty-foot-wide Boardwalk is always a colorful spectacle, with its magnificent hotels, rolling chairs, wonderful shops, theatres, concerts, attractive piers and an array of beauty and fashion, with the ever restless sea as a background to the pleasing picture.
